CERAMICS EXPERIENCE

For art enthusiasts, there are few more evocative places to visit than Vallauris, the village that has earned itself a worldwide reputation as the 'Cité des Potiers'.

Here, we invite you to meet Agnes Sandahl, one of the greatest living exponents of ceramics. Set within an old pottery factory, her workshop is home to one of the village's oldest kilns. Built in 1850, this is the same kiln Picasso used to achieve universal fame with his own ceramics.

Today, Agnes presents some of her finest pieces within this historical setting. Her 'art de la table' includes tableware commissions for Michelin Star chefs, Joel Robuchon and Eric Frechon, and royal families around the world.

Location: Vallauris

Duration: 2 hours plus approx 1 hour travel time, each way
